

About UAA

UAA founded in 2012 is a 501© (3), non-profit community-based organization located in Sacramento, California. UAA strategically coordinates and aligns resources of an entire community together to increase the educational success for all students in the Promise Zone, Sacramento's federally designated high-poverty areas.

The creation of UAA was inspired by the lack of educational equity and 21st Century Learning opportunities that continues to affect many youth, students, families, and our underserved counties in the Sacramento region, the Sacramento Promise Zone and across the United States.

UAA is a pioneering, innovative and revolutionary program that is eliminating the "School-to-Prison-Pipeline" for marginalized students and assisting students with educational equity plans and providing students the "Pipeline-to-College and 21st Century Career Technical Opportunities".
